

Global Studies

We live in a world that seems to become “smaller” at an accelerated pace. Rise in global trade, rapid advances in technology, unprecedented degrees of inter-cultural communication and international travel, a growing body of international law, the growing number of global non-state actors and the seriousness of today’s environmental problems have been creating an increasingly connected world. This process of globalization has transformed our planet, creating new opportunities and many new challenges. The mission of the Global Studies Program is to enable students to understand how globalization continues to evolve, and to provide an academic background which prepares them for today’s many career fields that require a global perspective. Reflecting the complexity of today’s world, Global Studies is an interdisciplinary major. It integrates the following disciplines:

- History, allowing us to learn about the evolution of our global civilizations;
- Anthropology and Sociology, to study the evolution of societies, societal characteristics and changes;
- Communication, to study communication between cultures and nations;
- Philosophy, to help us understand fundamental concepts such as our values and the philosophy of religions;
- Political Science, to understand the role of nation-states, international organizations, international law and private organizations in the globalization process;
- Economics and business, to study the growth of trade and its effects;
- Environmental Studies, to explore the many ecological problems related to economic growth and the dramatic rise in global population; and
- Foreign languages, to help us understand other people and communicate more effectively across national barriers.

Combining these academic disciplines into one interdisciplinary, colorful major—in order to understand the rapidly unfolding process of globalization—is the objective of our program.

Program Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Global Studies major requirements, students should be able to:

1. Describe key developments in the ongoing process of globalization
2. Analyze the concept of global interdependence with reference to various characteristics of globalization and to specific global problems
3. Connect concepts related to political, economic, cultural and ecological globalization with events discussed in contemporary news

College Requirements

For complete information, see “Graduation Requirements” in the Catalog Index.

Planning a Program of Study

As a general rule, students should begin their Global Studies major by taking GLST 101 and 102 in Fall and Spring respectively, and should follow up by taking PS 121 and 131 in the subsequent semesters.

Students should also simultaneously take one class from the selected areas A through F over the course of four semesters at SBCC.

Students seeking to transfer to UCSB must also complete their one year language requirement at SBCC before transferring. (See this Catalog, School of Modern Languages, for languages available to satisfy this requirement.)

A.A. Degree Requirements

An A.A. Degree in Global Studies can be obtained by satisfying the department requirements in Global Studies and the general education and institutional requirements for the Associate in Arts degree. For complete information, see “Graduation Requirements” in the Catalog Index.

Preparation for Transfer

A number of colleges and universities have transfer programs in Global Studies; others have programs in International Studies or International Relations. Specific degree requirements differ. Information sheets for majors, outlining transfer information, are available at the Counseling Center, ext. 2285.

Honors and Awards

Each year, the faculty selects one student as the Global Studies Student of the Year on the basis of academic performance and contribution to our program. This student is recognized and honored at the Annual Awards Banquet. In addition, each Spring Semester, the Global Studies Program awards the "Peter O. Haslund Global Studies Scholarship", a permanent scholarship made possible by a generous donation by Mrs. Margareta Jamner in honor of the founder of the Global Studies Program at SBCC, Dr. Peter Haslund, in the amount of $1,000, given on the basis of both academic promise and financial need. This scholarship is administered by the Foundation for SBCC. For more information, please contact the Financial Aid Office at ext. 2716.

Study Abroad Programs

Students are encouraged to participate in any of our Study Abroad programs, which are intended to make use of an international setting as a global classroom. For more information contact the Study Abroad Office at ext. 2494.

Student Participation

The International Studies Association (ISA) is a student organization which plans regular programs designed to involve the larger student community in the issues of our contemporary world. For further information, contact Dr. Andrea Haupt, Room IDC-351, ext. 3735.
